FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

How many seizures of anabolic steroids your force made in the following calendar years 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022 to date 01/03/22.

Having considered your request in terms of the above Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, anabolic steroids can be seized as a Production in relation to a crime, however Productions are not searchable on our systems.

Case by case assessment of all crime reports would have to be carried out to ascertain whether anabolic steroids were seized, and whilst it might be more likely that such items may be seized in relation to drug or violent offences etc. other offences could not be ruled out.

Even for a very short period, the number of crime reports requiring individual examination would run into tens of thousands, as illustrated in our published crime statistics. As such, this is an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management Dundee, quoting the reference number given.
