STAGE 1: SCREENING FOR POTENTIAL IMPACT(S)

Use this section to identify and document the potential impact of your policy and note the action planned or taken to eliminate (or justify) any potentially adverse impact. This section may also be used as an evidence log.

1.1 What is the main aim(s) or purpose of the policy?

The purpose of this Local Police Plan is to provide guidance and clarity in respect of the priorities and objectives which have been set out for Western Isles in 2013 – 2014 and to comply with the statutory requirements of the Police and Fire Reform (Scotland) Act 2012.

This plan forms part of a wider planning process and outlines the commitment of Police Scotland to service the needs and concerns of the local community, whilst dealing with the wider national demands placed upon it. It has been produced taking account of the Strategic Police Priorities set by Scottish Ministers, The Chief Constable's Police Plan, local crime trends and other information, consultation and engagement with our partners and the local communities of Western Isles.

1.2 What outcome(s) are you trying to achieve?

To increase public confidence by showing that Highland and Islands Division is committed to local policing approach that enables the Division to respond effectively to the individual needs of our communities;

1.4 Is there any potential for the policy or practice to discriminate, directly or indirectly, or disadvantage any particular group/s?

If yes, who is affected and how? / If no, state what evidence is available to support this?

No, there is no potential for this Local Policing Plan to discriminate directly, indirectly or disadvantage any particular group.

However, whilst the plan is framed with due regard to our statutory equality duty, there are aspects of this Local Policing Plan which may result in certain sections of the community being more likely to come into contact with the police in a variety of situations. There is also the potential for negative stereotyping of young people as a result of our identified priorities. Proactive measures that include closely working with young people and other affected groups will help to mitigate this potential. Our plan explains quite clearly the reasons and evidence for selecting the priorities.

Further information can be found in the analysis section of this assessment.

1.5 Is there any opportunity to advance equality for any group/s by removing an existing inequality/disadvantage? Yes/No

If yes, please provide details / If no, state what evidence is available to support this?

Yes this Local Policing Plan presents an opportunity to address key issues and safety concerns that can have a significant impact on the confidence and abilities of those affected. Such an impact can prevent people from taking advantage of opportunities or to access services that should be available to all.

Our objectives and priorities aim to offer reassurance to some of our most vulnerable and disadvantaged members of the community. It is hoped that this approach will have a positive impact on those affected by any type of crime or the fear of crime. We will achieve our mission of keeping people safe through visible, accessible and responsive policing. We will work to reduce the risk of harm to others through our commitment to protecting our people, reducing anti social behaviour, reducing violence, tackling drugs and alcohol issues, making our roads safer for everybody and tackling serious and organised crime. This in turn will benefit all our communities and improve the quality of life experienced by them.

In addition, the implementation of the Local Police Plan will be supported by a locally developed Equality and Diversity strategy and equality outcomes that have been developed following consultation with local equality groups, which will work towards advancing equality of opportunity for all. We also accept that our information and services are not equally accessible for all. The language and some of the terms used within our plan may not be easy to understand by those who experience language, communication or other barriers. Options for translation, interpretation and communication support are in place to mitigate potential impact.

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

1.6 Is there any potential for impact (negative or positive) on relations between different groups? E.g. Can it lead to tension between any groups and cause damage to relations or will it help to foster good relations? Yes/No

If yes, please provide details / If no, state what evidence is available to support this?

There is potential for positive impact arising from this policy. The key purpose of the policy is to minimise risk of harm to all members of our communities and to improve the quality of life for all we serve through effective, visible and accessible policing services. Achieving this goal will contribute to people feeling safer in and out of their homes, more confident in our service and more positive towards other sections of the community leading to better relationships between our diverse communities.

Effectively tackling matters such as anti-social behaviour, inappropriate driving behaviour or community based crime by young people will also have additional benefits for our young communities as a whole by demonstrating that these matters relate to a minority only, thereby addressing negative stereotyping and improving relations.

1.7 Which of the protected groups is the potential impact relevant to and to what level?

	High	Medium	Low	No Relevance	Reasons
Age	x				Anti social behaviour: Evidence suggests that proportionally more young people are involved in issues relating to driving, under age drinking and anti social behaviour. Protecting People: Young people can be subject to physical and emotional harm as a result of domestic/child abuse situations. Older people are seen as vulnerable to certain types of crimes and abuse.

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

Disability		X			Protecting People: Evidence from documents such as the EHRC 'Hidden in Plain Sight' report highlights that there is under-reporting of hate crime by people with disabilities, or a lack of awareness of what constitutes a hate crime. This is evidenced by comparison of the number of reports received relating to other protected characteristics. We have yet to encountered instances of people with disabilities being targeted by perpetrators of anti-social behaviour, because of their disability.
Gender	x				Protecting People: Effectively tackling domestic abuse and gender based violence is a strategic priority for Police Scotland and policing in the Western Isles. Many people can be the victims of physical, sexual or emotional abuse and neglect. Domestic Abuse affects the lives of not only the individuals subject to it, but also their wider families, including children.
Gender Reassignment			X		Protecting People: It is recognised that transgender people can be subject to prejudice on grounds of their transgender status. As a result they experience harassment /hate crime. There can also be domestic abuse situations affecting this group. Our plan seeks to address both of these important issues.
Marital / Civil Partnership Status				x	There is no evidence or concerns to suggest that the proposed Local Poling Plan or its objectives and priorities are likely to have any relevance to this characteristic.
Pregnancy & Maternity Leave			x		This characteristic has been given a low level relevance because whilst there is no evidence to suggest negative impact due to pregnancy or maternity, women in this group may experience some of the gender based issues highlighted above and their status may require added considerations.

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

Race		X			Tackling Serious Organised Crime may involve a significant element of stop search activities, which can be the subject of complaints from minority communities. Whilst there are no indications that this is currently and likely to be an issue within Western Isles this will be monitored to identify any emerging trends. Racially motivated hate crime is statistically higher than for any other group.
Religion or Belief		X			Protecting people: Religious hate crime can be an issue for this group. Also, race and religion can be very closely linked, so there can be the potential for negative stereotyping of this group when a few individuals from a particular race or religion may be involved in serious organised crime.
Sexual Orientation		X			Protecting People: It is recognised that people can be subject to prejudice on grounds of their sexual orientation. As a result they experience harassment /hate crime. There can also be same sex partner domestic abuse situations affecting this group. Our plan seeks to address both of these important issues.

Note: If the impact of the policy is considered to be of no relevance to any equality group/s, then there is no need to progress to a full equality impact assessment. However if the screening above has high, medium or low against any of the aims of the public sector general equality duty, then a full impact assessment should be done.

In a very few cases where the relevance is considered to be low, it may be necessary to postpone the full impact assessment – if this is decided the reasons should be recorded and the date for reviewing this decision inserted below.

1.8 Quality Assurance and Decision: On completion of Screening for Relevance, seek advice from your Equality and Diversity resources working within police reform

STAGE 3: ANALYSIS

3.1 Analysis of Evidence Obtained: summarise the findings from 2.1 and 2.2 above and what does it tell us.
Issue/concern raised	Analysis/Comment
General analysis based on evidence / information / feedback gathered	Western Isles Local Policing Plan for 2013 -2014 sets out the policing priorities and objectives for the area. At this stage the document is a positively focussed document which has been based on evidence of need and developed following significant engagement with the community within Western Isles and reflects the priorities which matter to people in Western Isles. The demographic profile of people in Western Isles is relatively small with the population being around 26080 (2011 Census) therefore in its nature the diversity of the profile can often be small in some areas and can be difficult to engage with. Efforts have been made to get views from different sections of our community in order to help the Plan more relevant to the whole of our community. All Multi Member Ward Level Communities Plans will help to deliver the objectives set out in this plan. The plan confirms police commitment to ongoing engagement with a variety of people from all protected characteristics to ensure a fair and equal outcome for all. There is a specific objective within Priority 1 (increase public confidence & local engagement) regarding promotion of equality through daily business and partnerships. Staff involved in the delivery of the local police plan will have received equality and diversity training ensuring that this is applied consistently and fairly across the region. Efforts will be made to continue this standard. Against each priority is a set of objectives which are aimed at showing whether our performance has improved or not; these reflect a range of measures from reduction in crimes; increases in detection rates; fear of crime; level of satisfaction etc. These will be evidence of whether our strategies are working correctly. And, as detailed in the Plan in section 5, each priority will be discussed, reported on, monitored and actions will be reviewed if not working well.

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

	Addressing the issues around hate crime is rightly included within the Public Protection priority. It is also a part of our performance objectives. Close working relations with partner organisations will help to progress work in this area. The Local Policing Plan will be supported by a locally developed Equality and Diversity strategy. Equality outcomes have been developed following consultation with local equality groups, therefore ensuring opportunity for advancing equality of opportunity remains. There are several references to youths or young persons but this is appropriate to the evidence that has been gathered, locally, nationally and with partners that these are the demographic group to target in these instances. The Getting It Right for Every Child is a major part of the whole systems approach to policing and partnership working. With every agency playing their part to ensure that the SHANARRI indicators (Safe, Healthy, Achieving, Nurtured, Active, Respected and Responsible, and Included are met.
i) Increase Public Confidence and Local Engagement	Whilst evidence suggests that we are doing relatively very in this area, it is seen as a continued priority by our community. Our approach of visible policing and meaningful community engagement will help to further enhance the good relations with the police and between different communities as well as advancing equality for groups usually underrepresented or excluded in mainstream activities.

ii) Protecting People	Our commitment to Public Protection brings with it a focus on a victim centred approach and working in partnership to protect our communities. This can be particularly relevant in terms of domestic abuse, hate crime or any form of discrimination or harassment. For example, we have placed particular emphasis on the protection of vulnerable adults or those at risk of harm by capturing and sharing relevant information, using established and effective processes. We also aim to reduce the potential of physical and emotional harm to young people through our priorities of effectively tackling domestic abuse and the robust management of Registered Sex Offenders resident within the Western Isles. Protecting adults at risk of harm through strong partnership approaches across relevant agencies is the right thing to do. Evidence from documents such as the EHRC 'Hidden in Plain Sight' report highlights that there is under-reporting of hate crime by people with disabilities, or a lack of awareness of what constitutes a hate crime. This is evidenced by comparison of the number of reports received relating to other protected characteristics. Whilst there have been no instances of people with disabilities being targeted by perpetrators of anti-social behaviour raising awareness amongst the communities as part of our Equality Outcomes will have an impact in preventing these issue occurring in the future. We are also developing our Vulnerable Persons Database capability to ensure appropriate referral mechanisms are established for vulnerable people. Effectively tackling domestic abuse (including same sex partners), gender based violence and harmful traditional practices (such as forced marriage) is a strategic priority for Police Scotland and policing in the Western Isles. Evidence shows that many people can be the victims of physical, sexual or emotional abuse and neglect. Domestic Abuse and Gender based violence blights the lives of not only the individuals subject to it, but also their wider families, including children. We have established dedicated domestic and rape abuse investigation units, which will focus on detecting and managing offenders. Our continued focus in this area will build upon work we have already conducted in this area leading to offenders being reported through the courts and a significant reduction in repeat Domestic Abuse incidents.
iii) Making Our Roads Safer	Traditionally, intelligence and statistics demonstrate that issues involving road safety (particularly serious injury Road Traffic Collisions) often involve young people under the age of 25.

iv) Reducing Violence, Disorder and Antisocial Behaviour	Although by no means exclusive to young people, often relates to a disproportionately high percentage of youth and features as a moderate concern across the Western Isles. Effectively tackling matters such as anti-social behaviour, inappropriate driving behaviour or community based crime by young people will also have additional benefits for our young communities as a whole by demonstrating that these matters relate to a minority only, thereby addressing negative stereotyping and improving relations. Analysis indicates that the vast majority of Hate Crime and violence / disorder is linked to drink and drugs abuse. Drunken/abusive patrons often come in to verbal conflict with employees within the licensing trade, particularly at premises linked to night time economy or fast food outlets in town centres. Alcohol and drugs are undoubtedly a 'golden thread' within many of the Strategic Priorities. By working with partners to develop opportunities for prevention, intervention and influencing policies and attitudes, will help to reduce offending behaviour - particularly that which is motivated by prejudice. Evidence shows that this is an area where young men are most likely to be the victims or perpetrators of such crimes. Targeted campaigns in conjunction with partners, to address these lifestyle issues and choices has the potential to impact positively upon them in the longer term.
vi) Tackling Serious Organised Crime and Drugs	The priority and objectives relating to Serious Organised Crime makes reference to organised crime groups that are involved in the distribution of controlled drugs. In tackling this, there is the potential for stop/search activity to appear to impact upon some communities owing to the profile of those involved.

MITIGATION /JUSTIFICATION

4.2 Can any negative impact be justified on a legal or objective ground? If so, please give full details here - attach any EHRC and /or legal guidance or similar received"

There is no known negative or adverse impact identified as a result of implementing this Local Policing Plan. However, it is recognised that given the fact that certain types of crimes involve some sections of the community more than others there may be a potential for affected groups to feel they are being unfairly targeted. The objectives are important for the police and our communities and they are based on evidence of need. There are sufficient measures in place to ensure that there will be no unnecessary or unjustified targeting of any group. Also proactive initiatives to reduce and prevent the level of incidents in all our priority areas will help to reduce any potential impact. Local ward level community engagement, including protected groups, and focus on key issues most relevant in that area will further assist in managing emerging issues.

4.3 MITIGATING ACTION PLAN: What mitigating or positive action/s have been or will be taken to minimise/eliminate any potential for adverse impact on our ability to meet the aims of the Public Sector Equality Duty? And, how will this action be monitored to see if it is reducing any adverse impact?
