FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Under the freedom of information act, I would like to know how many times the Police have visited The Pavillion Café over the last 6 months.

Following clarification with you, you advised:

I would like to know the number of times that police attended at the pavilion/park/nearby streets due to youth disorder/antisocial behaviour.

In response to your request I can advise that a manual assessment has taken place, incorporating the park area, surrounding streets including Park Avenue, Victoria Place, Kings Park Road, Park Place, Park Terrace and Snowdon Place.

I can advise that between 01 February 2022 and 31 July 2022, in response to contact from members of the public, police attended to the locations noted above on 37 occasions due to ongoing issues with youth behaviour.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management quoting the reference number given.

If you are dissatisfied with the way in which Police Scotland has dealt with your request, you are entitled, in the first instance, to request a review of our actions and decisions.

Your request must specify the matter which gives rise to your dissatisfaction and it must be submitted within 40 working days of receiving this response - either by email to foi@scotland.police.uk or by post to Information Management (Disclosure), Police Scotland, Clyde Gateway, 2 French Street, Dalmarnock, G40 4EH.

If you remain dissatisfied following the outcome of that review, you are thereafter entitled to apply to the Office of the Scottish Information Commissioner within six months for a decision. You can apply online, by email to enquiries@itspublicknowledge.info or by post to Office of the Scottish Information Commissioner, Kinburn Castle, Doubledykes Road, St Andrews, Fife, KY16 9DS.
