FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

In follow-up to request IM-FOI-2021-2569 and IM-FOI-2022-0079 you asked:

For the period October 2020 to March 2021 inclusive:

Please provide the total amount paid in out-of-court settlements by Police Scotland.

In all answers for this request, the figures provided reflect payments made during the period requested. It does not necessarily follow that those payments were the full and final settlement of the claim which could have happened at a later date.

I have taken this part of your request to include the amount paid out in claims only, I have not included legal expenses or third party legal expenses as I note these are requested separately below. The below figure therefore relates to public liability claims, employers' liability claims and motor liability claims.

£712,723.47

Please include the number of settlements, a description of the reason, and the area in which the person resided i.e. Dundee, Tayside.

Please note that each question from this point on has been interpreted as a follow-on from your initial question and therefore relates to out-of-court settlements only.

Please find the number of settlements and a description of each in the tables below. I have split these into the types of claim which they relate to.

In regards to motor liability claims, our system records the location the accident occurred rather than the address the claimant resides. As such, in terms of Section 17 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, this represents a notice that the information requested is not held by Police Scotland.

Please also include, if possible, the total amount spent on legal fees relating to the cases.

I can confirm the amount spent on our legal fees and third party legal fees is as follows:

£175,747.63

Please also include the highest amount paid and what this was for.

I have interpreted this part of your request to be the instance where the highest total amount was paid by Police Scotland. This will include the amount of claim, third party legal costs and our legal costs combined.

£204,272.50 – Motor Liability Claim

Can you also include a specific total for the amount paid out in discrimination claims from employment tribunal? Please also classify these i.e. sexual, age, disability (including type of disability).

I have interpreted this part of your request to be the instance where the highest total amount was paid by Police Scotland. This will include the amount of claim, third party legal costs and our legal costs combined.

Total amount - £22,506.80

OFFICIAL

In regards to classifications of claim I can confirm that the following apply. I would advise that more than one classification can apply to a claim: Age discrimination, sex discrimination, disability discrimination and maternity discrimination.

In regards to the type of disability, in terms of Section 16 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I am refusing to provide you with the details requested

Section 16 requires Police Scotland when refusing to provide such information because it is exempt, to provide you with a notice which:

- (a) states that it holds the information,
- (b) states that it is claiming an exemption,
- (c) specifies the exemption in question and
- (d) states, if that would not be otherwise apparent, why the exemption applies.

I can confirm that Police Scotland holds the information that you have requested.

The exemption that I consider to be applicable to the information requested by you is section 38(1)(b) - Personal Data.

Personal data is defined in Article 4 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) as:

'Information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ("data subject"); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person'

Section 38(2A) of the Act provides that personal data is exempt from disclosure where disclosure would contravene any of the data protection principles set out at Article 5(1) of the GDPR which states that:

'Personal data shall be processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject'

Article 6 of the GDPR goes on to state that processing shall be lawful only if certain conditions are met.

The only potentially applicable condition is set out at Article 6(1)(f) which states:

'Processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or by a third party, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child'

Whilst I accept that you may have a legitimate interest with regards the disclosure of this information and that disclosure may well be necessary for that purpose, I am nonetheless of the view that those interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject.

OFFICIAL

In this case the limited data pool involved along with the limited timescale and other information provided within this request would make identification of an individual possible if further information in regards to disability type was to be released.

On that basis, it is my view that disclosure of the information sought would be unlawful.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management quoting the reference number given.
