FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has not been repeated here due to the fact that it names specific individuals.

Having considered your request in terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I am refusing to confirm or deny whether the information sought exists or is held by Police Scotland in terms of section 18 of the Act.

Section 18 applies where the following two conditions are met:

- It would be contrary to the public interest to reveal whether the information is held

Whilst we accept that you may have a particular personal interest in being informed as to whether or not the information sought is held, the overwhelming public interest lies in protecting individuals' right to privacy and the expectation of confidence that the public have in Police Scotland as regards their information.

- If the information was held, it would be exempt from disclosure in terms of one or more of the exemptions set out in sections 28 to 35, 38, 39(1) or 41 of the Act

In this instance, sections 38(1)(b) and 38(1)(2A) of the Act apply insofar as you have requested third party personal data which is exempt from disclosure where it is assessed that disclosure would contravene the data protection principles as defined in the Act.

I would suggest that you consider applying for information via the Police Scotland Sex Offender Community Disclosure Scheme - further details of which can be found on our website:

<https://www.scotland.police.uk/advice-and-information/child-abuse/the-sex-offender-community-disclosure/>

You can apply online or, alternatively, call 101 and ask to speak to someone from that team (otherwise known as the 'Keeping Children Safe team')

If however you feel that anyone is at immediate risk or is in danger, please call 999 to speak to a police operator.

You should also contact Disclosure Scotland for advice if the individual is volunteering with children and/ or vulnerable adults.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management Dundee, quoting the reference number given.
