FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

- 1) The number of incidents where officers in Police Scotland have seized Fenethylline. Please provide this information for the financial years of 2015-16, 2016-17, 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20, 2020-21 and 2021-22.
- 2) The volume of Fenethylline seized in each of these financial years. This information can be provided in number of tablets or kilograms, or any other form in which the information is held.
- 3) The number of crimes recorded by Police Scotland associated with possession or supply of Fenethylline under the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971.

Having considered your request in terms of the Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, the only way to provide an accurate response to your request would be to manually examine each and every misuse of drugs crime reports to establish whether Fenethylline is detailed as being recovered. Given the volume of reports, this is an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.
