FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

- 1. The total number of crime reports made to your force since April 30 2021 that contained the word "AirTag" (or any variation e.g. "airtag", "air tag", "Airtag" etc).
- 2. Of the total given in response to Q1, how many also contained any of the following words: "stalk", "stalking", "stalker", "coercive control", "domestic abuse", or "domestic violence"?

Having considered your request in terms of the Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, it is not possible to carry out a keyword search in terms of recorded crimes.

Therefore each and every crime report submitted from 30 April 2021 would have to be manually examined to establish whether words/phrases detailed in your request are noted and in what context.

As such this is an exercise which would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

To be of assistance I can advise you that since 30 April 2021 there have been 60 recorded incidents (calls made to Police Scotland) which include reference to AirTag, Air-Tag or Air Tag.
