FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Can you provide any further dates, out with those dates above [provided], where DS/DI John Stewart was involved with a case relevant to myself?

To clarify first of all, the information requested is not covered by the subject access provisions of the GDPR or Data Protection Act 2018.

As a written request for information however, it must still be responded to and it becomes a Freedom of Information request in the absence of any other 'business as usual' process.

You have asked about cases that you, an identifiable individual, have been involved with in some way - along with the other party mentioned.

On that basis, I am refusing to confirm or deny whether the information sought exists or is held by Police Scotland in terms of section 18 of the Act.

Section 18 applies where the following two conditions are met:

- It would be contrary to the public interest to reveal whether the information is held

Whilst we accept that you may have a particular personal interest in being informed as to whether or not the information sought is held, the overwhelming public interest lies in protecting individuals' right to privacy and the expectation of confidence that the public have in Police Scotland as regards their information.

- If the information was held, it would be exempt from disclosure in terms of one or more of the exemptions set out in sections 28 to 35, 38, 39(1) or 41 of the Act

In this instance, section 38(1)(a) of the Act applies insofar as you have requested information that is at least partially your own personal data which is exempt from disclosure in all circumstances.

It is also the personal data of the other named individual and in that regard section 38(1)(b) of the Act is also applicable.
