FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

1. The email address for your Chief Constable.
2. The phone number for your Chief Constable.
4. The general email address for your force e.g. a 'contact us' email address.
5. The phone number for your Professional Standards Department.
6. The email address for your Professional Standards Department.

Please be advised that information with regard to contacting Police Scotland is publically available.

As such, in terms of Section 16 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I am refusing to provide you with the information sought. Section 16 requires Police Scotland when refusing to provide such information because it is exempt, to provide you with a notice which:

- (a) states that it holds the information,
- (b) states that it is claiming an exemption,
- (c) specifies the exemption in question and
- (d) states, if that would not be otherwise apparent, why the exemption applies.

I can confirm that Police Scotland holds the information that you have requested and the exemption that I consider to be applicable is set out at Section 25(1) of the Act - information otherwise accessible:

"Information which the applicant can reasonably obtain other than by requesting it under Section 1(1) is exempt information"

The information you are seeking is available on the Police Scotland website, via the following link: Contact Police Scotland - Police Scotland.

You can find an online complaint and contact us form here

3. The reason that your last chief constable left the position.

I can advise you that Chief Constable Gormley resigned from the force in February 2018.
