FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Please disclose all correspondence with the companies NSO Group, DarkMatter Group and Quadream. I would also like to know of all meetings that took place between the police force and representatives from the companies, including time, place, names of those present and the agenda and any notes taken.

Having considered your request, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, there are over 20,000 police officers and staff within Police Scotland and correspondence could be held anywhere.

The search process that would require to be carried out to trace any such correspondence is considered to be far too extensive and as such, is an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

You may wish to consider whether your request could be refined to particular individuals or departments, depending on the subject matter.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management Dundee, quoting the reference number given.

If you are dissatisfied with the way in which Police Scotland has dealt with your request, you are entitled, in the first instance, to request a review of our actions and decisions. Your request must specify the matter which gives rise to your dissatisfaction and it must be submitted within 40 working days of receiving this response - either by email to foi@scotland.police.uk or by post to Information Management (Disclosure), Police Scotland, Clyde Gateway, 2 French Street, Dalmarnock, G40 4EH.
