FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Please can I request the following data from 2018 until the latest possible date:

- The number of Under 16s arrested on suspicion of supplying drugs
- The youngest person arrested suspected of supplying drugs
- A breakdown of the different types of drugs in each incident

Having considered your request in terms of the Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, the only way to provide an accurate response to your request would be to manually examine each and every relevant offence to establish the age of the offender, and the type of drugs involved. As such this an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

To illustrate, the most recent published crime statistics show that for the 2021/22 financial year, there were 3,206 recorded offences of Supply of Drugs. Unfortunately, the only way to access data specific to your request is via each individual crime report.

You can access our published crime statistics via the following link: How we are performing - Police Scotland
