Foreword

Since taking up my role as Local Police Commander for Ayrshire Division in March 2020, I have been impressed with the dedication, commitment and compassion shown by police officers and police staff in East Ayrshire through the challenges presented by the pandemic. This has also been a challenging time for Local Authority staff and other key workers, particularly those in the NHS; their contribution and continued commitment along with the unsung heroes in our communities has been inspiring.

It is more relevant now than ever to highlight that Police Scotland's purpose is to improve the safety and wellbeing of people, places and communities; we continue to work closely with partners to ensure that we collectively address the needs of the most vulnerable in our community.

With that responsibility, I am pleased to present the Local Police Plan 2021/23 for East Ayrshire. The Plan continues to be reflective of Community Planning Partners priorities and is aligned to Police Scotland's strategic planning approach, allied with Police Scotland's and the Scottish Police Authority's Joint Strategy for Policing, "Policing for a safe, protected and resilient Scotland".

Through our Divisional Strategic Assessment process we have identified the areas of focus that are at the heart of this Local Police Plan. As we adapt to a new normality, Ayrshire Division will remain vigilant and agile so that we can respond and address issues that have the most impact on our communities.

Ayrshire Division works extremely closely with our Community Planning Partners and we are wholly supportive of the adoption of the Ayrshire Growth Deal and Caring for Ayrshire programme as the shared priorities for the revised Community Plan 2021-24. We will be an active participant and advocate for work undertaken on all delivery strands. We have also worked closely with partners to ensure police activity detailed in this Plan is reflective of the approach taken to the East Ayrshire Safer Communities and Wellbeing Plans. Through the Community Planning Partnership structure we aim to further develop joint local approaches to prevent crime and disorder; and to collectively provide support to those most vulnerable and at greatest risk of harm in our communities.

In support of this, we have incorporated Community Wellbeing as a key priority in our Local Police Plan. This takes cognisance of the varied and meaningful partnership activity we undertake to address often complex issues that impact on individuals in times of crisis or require a coordinated approach to ensure they get the support that they need.

OFFICIAL

An important aspect of our partnership activity will be a renewed focus on Children and Young People. The completion of the Independent Care Review and the publication of 'The Promise' puts an onus on Police Scotland and partners as Corporate Parents to play an active role in ensuring that care experienced young people realise their full potential in East Ayrshire. The UN Convention on the Rights of the Child will be incorporated into Scots Law in the coming year and will require all public authorities to consider our policies and practices to ensure they protect children's rights. In addition, the Age of Criminal Responsibility (Scotland) Act 2019 will come into effect in late 2021 and will require the police and criminal justice partners to support young people in a different and more positive way.

The implementation of 'The Promise' and new legislation will make a significant contribution to embedding trauma informed practice into everyday ways of working. In East Ayrshire, we will be working with the Local Authority, Health and Social Care Partnership, the NHS and other key partners to identify training opportunities and best practice so that we can collaboratively respond to the needs of individuals in ways that prevent further harm and supports recovery.

I also recognise the impact of trauma in the workplace; my focus will also be on supporting the health and wellbeing of police officers and police staff in East Ayrshire.

As the pandemic has shown; collaborative working is key to delivering the best outcomes for our communities. On behalf of my colleagues in Ayrshire Division, I look forward to building on the already strong working relationships in East Ayrshire, and I remain committed to providing a visible and responsive local police service that contributes to improving the wellbeing of our communities.

Local Police Commander, Ayrshire

OFFICIAL

Introduction

East Ayrshire covers an area of 490 square miles and has boundaries with the neighbouring local authorities of North Ayrshire, South Ayrshire, Dumfries and Galloway, South Lanarkshire and East Renfrewshire.

It has a population of over 120,000 that live in a mixture of urban, rural and isolated communities. Kilmarnock is the major urban area with a population of around 43,500. The remainder of the population lives in smaller towns and villages from Bellsbank in the South to Dunlop in the North.

Kilmarnock hosts a senior football club and there is also a proud tradition of successful junior football throughout East Ayrshire.

There are a number of buildings of historical significance in the area, including Dean Castle in Kilmarnock and Dumfries House in Cumnock, where HRH The Prince of Wales often resides when visiting Scotland. Many parts of East Ayrshire are also strongly associated with Robert Burns.

Police Scotland works in partnership with East Ayrshire Council, other emergency services, resilience partners and many others to ensure that East Ayrshire residents and visitors feel safe and enjoy the environments in which they live, work and visit.

Legal Basis and Corporate Framework

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 places a statutory duty for all partners to be focussed on outcomes. It is explicit about how public bodies work together with the local community to plan and provide services that improve local outcomes with a view to reducing inequalities. The Local Policing Plan is fully integrated with the Safer Communities Delivery Plan as part of the strategic framework that supports the East Ayrshire Community Plan 2015-2030.

The Police, Fire and Reform (Scotland) Act 2012 requires the Local Police Commander to submit a Local Police Plan to the Local Authority for its approval.

Whilst this Plan is a local one and is focused on East Ayrshire, the activity we undertake will also contribute to the Scottish Government's National Performance Framework, in particular the following National Outcomes that seek to ensure people:

- live in communities that are inclusive, empowered, resilient and safe
- respect, protect and fulfil human rights and live free from discrimination
- grow up loved, safe and respected so that they realise their full potential

The Plan also aligns with Police Scotland's / SPA's Strategic Policing Plan and Annual Police Plan; these key documents provide us with the following five Strategic Outcomes that are within the Performance Framework for Policing and are adopted locally:

- Public Safety and Wellbeing
- Needs of Local Communities
- Confidence in Policing
- Positive Working Environment
- Sustainable and Adaptable Service

Police Scotland's Annual Police Plan provides detail on wider Policing priorities that are addressed with national and regional resources and supported by local resources when required. Serious Organised Crime (SOC) is one of the national Police Scotland priorities; however Serious Crime is an identified local priority and we will take appropriate steps locally to address these issues that impact on our communities, e.g. focussing on drugs supply. Protecting communities by reducing and mitigating the risk and impact of Terrorism remains a priority for Police Scotland. Experience has shown that Scotland is not immune from such acts and Police Scotland must be ready to counter terrorism in all its forms. This national priority will be addressed locally; albeit it is not specifically referred to as a local priority.

Local Policing Delivery

The Community Planning Partnership (CPP) has embraced the locality partnership model to coordinate and deliver a wide range of services. This has been supported by all partners and as this has matured, relationships have grown stronger and collaborative working with partners and communities has thrived. The three localities in East Ayrshire are:

- Northern (Annick and Irvine Valley)
- Kilmarnock (including Crosshouse and Hurlford)
- Southern (Cumnock and Doon Valley)

In East Ayrshire we have dedicated policing resources for each of the locality areas; these officers build links with the communities and partners to deliver a service that addresses local concerns. These links are strengthened with every school benefitting from a Campus officer who is integral to delivery of policing services in the area of their designated schools.

In addition, East Ayrshire has response policing hubs in Kilmarnock, Stewarton, Galston, Cumnock, and Dalmellington. These resources are responsible for responding to 999 and high priority calls. This structure allows us to assess the threats, risks and harm of each call and ensure the appropriate response is provided to meet the needs of the public. There is also dedicated Criminal Investigation Department resources.

There are also a range of specialist resources in Ayrshire that are deployed to support local resources as and when required, these include Road Policing, Domestic Abuse Investigation Unit and Rape Investigation unit. Ayrshire Division has its own Pro-active Crime Team that are regularly deployed in East Ayrshire to respond to intelligence led investigations and enquiries.

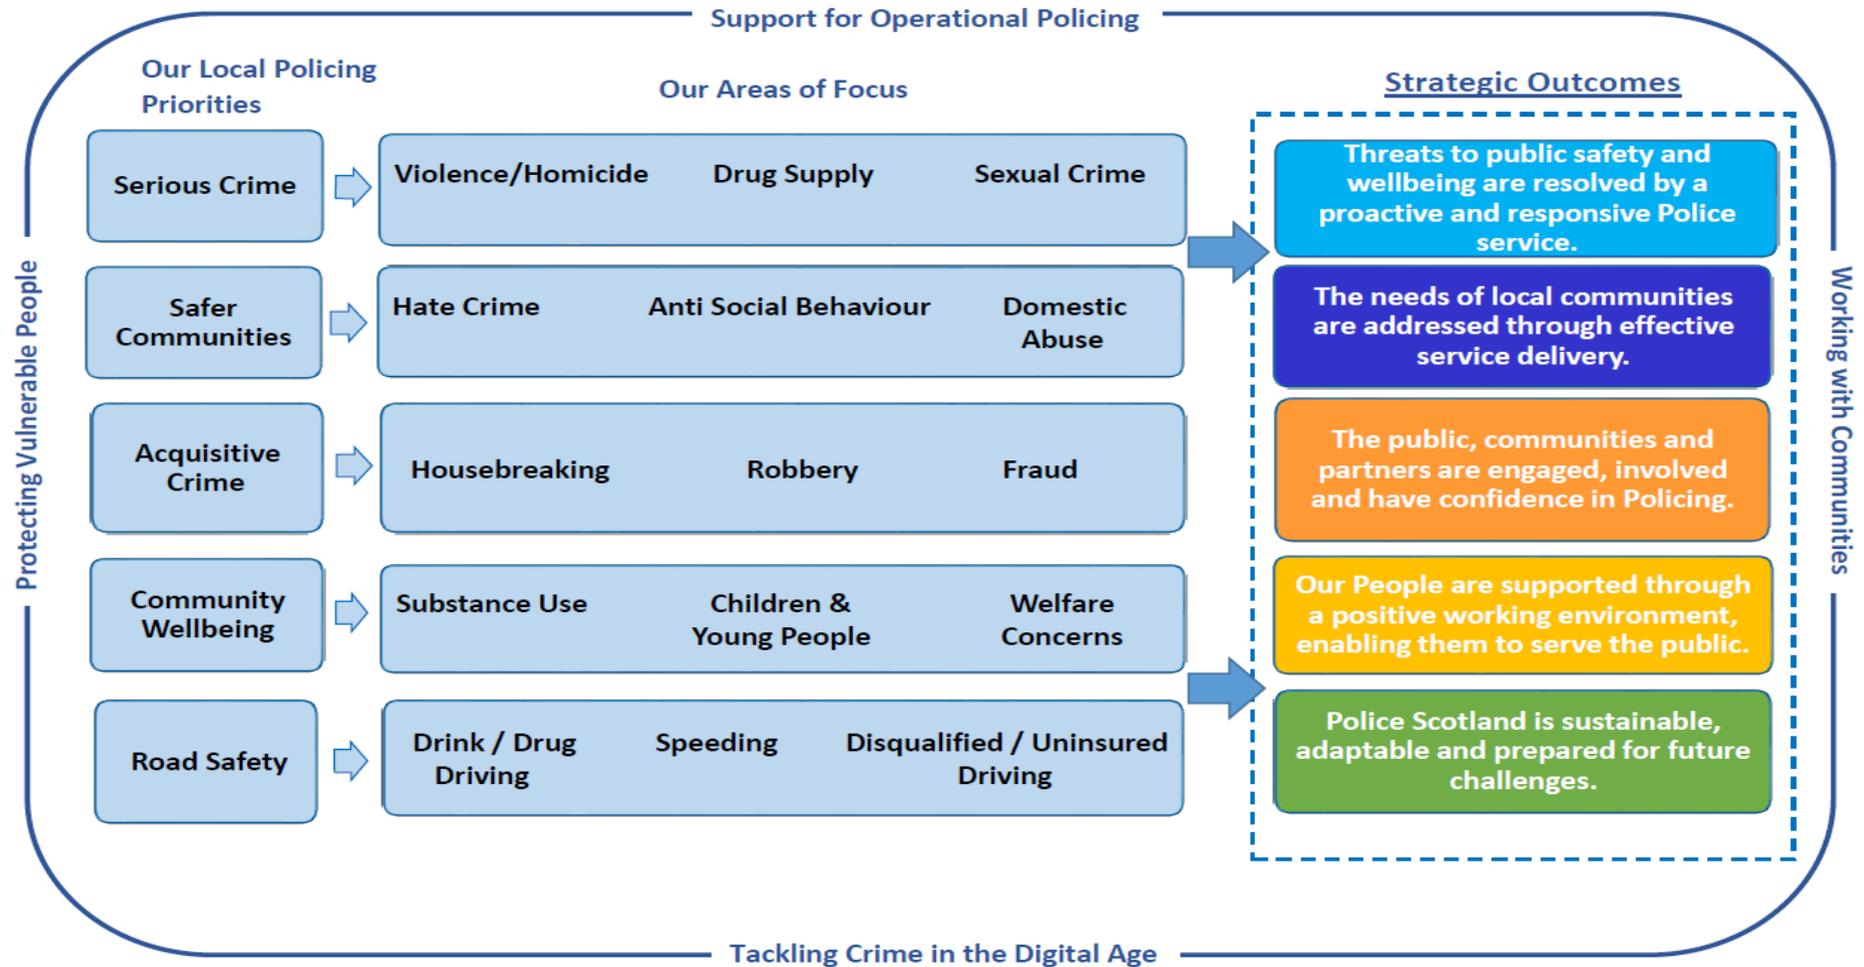

The benefit of being a national organisation also provides East Ayrshire with access to specialist resources that will deploy to the area to support local resources. These are varied and the following list is not meant to be exhaustive: Marine Unit, Air Support, Negotiators, Mounted and Dog Branch.

Measure of progress against the five national outcomes are reported to the Scottish Police Authority on a quarterly basis.

Police performance in East Ayrshire will be scrutinised by East Ayrshire Council's Police and Fire & Rescue Committee. The Local Policing Commander, accompanied by the Area Commander for East Ayrshire, will provide regular reports to this committee on the objectives and activity identified in this Plan. In addition, Locality Policing supervisors and officers will attend Locality Partnership and other public meetings to provide updates on police performance and engage to better understand local issues and concerns.

Across Police Scotland we are committed to developing and promoting best practice in the advancement of our Equality Outcomes.
