Analytical Intelligence Gathering

Introduction

This training is designed to develop intelligence gathering and critical analytical skills. Although primarily based on the prevention and detection of criminal activity, a great deal of the content is transferable to partners and colleagues who sit outside law enforcement.

Capability

We can tailor training content to suit your individual needs in a range of interventions, in both existing and emerging technologies. We offer established courses in related subjects.