FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

In relation to the years - April 2020-March 2021 and April 2021- March 2022. I require the following information,

The number of sexual offences recorded by [inset police force] involving victims in age categories 65-74 and 75+

A breakdown of the gender of the victims identified above.

A breakdown of the relationship of victim to principal suspect for each victim identified above.

Having considered your request in terms of the Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, the only way to provide an accurate response to your request would be to examine each and every recorded sexual crime to establish the specifics of your request. I can advise you certain sexual offences against children are recorded by age range, however offences against adults are not. To illustrate the volume of reports, I can advise you that for the financial year 2021/22, there were 15, 049 recorded sexual crimes. As such this is an exercise which would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.
