Our Ref: IM-FOI-2022-1012 Date: 20th May 2022

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Broken down by the policing areas for Dundee, Angus, Perth and Kinross and Fife, how many cars were reported stolen between January 1 2022 and April 30 2022?

Please also provide the same figures for the same areas for the periods:

- January 1 2021-April 30 2021
- January 1 2020-April 30 2020
- January 1 2019-April 30 2019
- January 1 2018-April 30 2018

In response to this question, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, crimes in Scotland are recorded in accordance with the Scottish Government Justice Department offence classification codes and are not thereafter subcategorised.

In this instance, the relevant classification is Theft of a Motor Vehicle however this classification is used for theft of all types of vehicles, i.e. cars, vans etc.

Unfortunately, the crime recording systems used by Police Scotland have no facility whereby the type of vehicle stolen can be automatically identified or extracted.

As such, the only possible way to determine whether the vehicle stolen was a car, would be to carry out case by case assessment of all Theft of Motor Vehicle offences, and other Theft categories such as Housebreaking etc. for the time period requested.

As illustrated by our published statistics, this would involve examining thousands of crime reports - an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees

OFFICIAL

Regulations.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management Dundee, quoting the reference number given.

If you are dissatisfied with the way in which Police Scotland has dealt with your request, you are entitled, in the first instance, to request a review of our actions and decisions. Your request must specify the matter which gives rise to your dissatisfaction and it must be submitted within 40 working days of receiving this response - either by email to foi@scotland.police.uk or by post to Information Management (Disclosure), Police Scotland, Clyde Gateway, 2 French Street, Dalmarnock, G40 4EH.

If you remain dissatisfied following the outcome of that review, you are thereafter entitled to apply to the Office of the Scottish Information Commissioner within six months for a decision. You can apply online, by email to enquiries@itspublicknowledge.info or by post to Office of the Scottish Information Commissioner, Kinburn Castle, Doubledykes Road, St Andrews, Fife, KY16 9DS.

Should you wish to appeal against the Office of the Scottish Information Commissioner's decision, there is an appeal to the Court of Session on a point of law only.

As part of our commitment to demonstrate openness and transparency in respect of the information we hold, an anonymised version of this response will be posted to the Police Scotland Freedom of Information Disclosure Log in seven days' time.
