FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

I would like to see the CCTV of the Summer Street, Aberdeen, on August 27,2022 especially in the afternoon

Having considered your request in terms of the above Act, I must advise you that all public space CCTV will include footage of third party individuals and as such, it would be a breach of their right to privacy to public disclose same.

In terms of section 16 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I am refusing to provide you with a copy of the CCTV footage from Summer Street, Aberdeen.

Section 16 requires Police Scotland when refusing to provide such information because it is exempt, to provide you with a notice which:

- (a) states that it holds the information,
- (b) states that it is claiming an exemption,
- (c) specifies the exemption in question and
- (d) states, if that would not be otherwise apparent, why the exemption applies.

I can confirm that Police Scotland holds the information that you have requested. The exemption that I consider to be applicable to the information requested by you is:

Section 38(1)(b) - Personal Data

Personal data is defined in Article 4 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) as:

'Information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ("data subject"); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person'

Section 38(2A) of the Act provides that personal data is exempt from disclosure where disclosure would contravene any of the data protection principles set out at Article 5(1) of the GDPR which states that:

OFFICIAL

'Personal data shall be processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject'

Article 6 of the GDPR goes on to state that processing shall be lawful only if certain conditions are met.

The only potentially applicable condition is set out at Article 6(1)(f) which states:

'Processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or by a third party, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child'

I appreciate that this response may be disappointing; however, I feel that it is important to emphasise to you that the Act is in essence, applicant and purpose blind. By this I mean that any information disclosed under the Act would be available to any person requesting it and in addition, that all responses under the Act are published on our website.

On that basis, it is my view that disclosure of the information sought would be unlawful.

We appreciate that you provided a detailed explanation as to why you are requesting the CCTV and what you hope to achieve but we would urge to you contact 101 and the Police will investigate the matter, it is not for you to do that yourself.

Should you require any further assistance please contact Information Management Dundee, quoting the reference number given.
