Events Planning Policy

The Police Service of Scotland (PSoS) recognises that public safety is at the forefront of all events planning and is primarily the responsibility of event organisers, supported by their partner agencies.

During the planning and implementation of policing plans for events, PSoS will consider legislative requirements and relevant guidance (including equality, human rights and health and safety) in order to:

- maximise safety,
- minimise disruption,
- ensure public order is maintained and
- co-ordinate the response to any significant incident.
