FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

- The number of times Police Scotland have responded to call outs to PRIMARY schools, with this information given each year for 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, and this year to date.
- Can you tell me the number of call outs to each specific school. This to be given with the number of call outs to each school within each year.
- For each of these call outs, can you tell me the nature of why the police were called to the school (eg, knife attack, drugs, etc)

Having considered your request in terms of the Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, it is not possible to search our incident or crime recording systems by locus type. As such the only way to provide an accurate response to your request would be to read each and every incident log for the time periods requested to establish the location and circumstance. Given the numbers involved this is an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

You may wish to submit a list of schools with addresses as we may be able to research these within cost depending on the numbers involved.

- Can you tell me how many of the call outs resulted in prosecutions?

Police Scotland does not hold prosecution information. As such, in terms of Section 17 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, this represents a notice that the information you seek is not held by Police Scotland.
