I refer to your recent request for information which has not been repeated here due to the fact that it names specific individuals.

Having considered your request in terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I am refusing to confirm or deny whether the information sought exists or is held by Police Scotland in terms of section 18 of the Act.

Section 18 applies where the following two conditions are met:

Whilst we accept that you may have a particular personal interest in being informed as to whether or not the information sought is held, the overwhelming public interest lies in protecting individuals' right to privacy and the expectation of confidence that the public have in Police Scotland as regards their information.

- If the information was held, it would be exempt from disclosure in terms of one or more of the exemptions set out in sections 28 to 35, 38, 39(1) or 41 of the Act

In this instance, sections 38(1)(b) and 38(1)(2A) of the Act apply insofar as you have requested third party personal data which is exempt from disclosure where it is assessed that disclosure would contravene the data protection principles as defined in the Act.

Your tenant can submit a Subject Access Request for details of calls they have made to Police Scotland and thereafter forward this information to you. Further information relating to Subject Access Requests can be found on our website.

Please note that if you are seeking information in connection with prospective or ongoing eviction etc. legal proceedings then you should apply in terms of Schedule 2, Part 1, paragraph 5 of the Data Protection Act 2018. However, this would only entitle you to information about your tenant's anti-social behaviour, not reports that they have made about third parties.
