FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Sudden Death Statistics

I would be obliged if you could provide the total amount of the above for each division of Police Scotland between 01/01/2016 and 31/12/2021.

The results should only include those deaths where police were required to report the circumstances to the Procurator Fiscal due to a death certificate not being issued by a medical practitioner at the time of death.

Having considered your request in terms of the above Act, I regret to inform you that I am unable to provide you with the information you have requested, as it would prove too costly to do so within the context of the fee regulations.

As you may be aware the current cost threshold is £600 and I estimate that it would cost well in excess of this amount to process your request.

As such, and in terms of Section 16(4) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 where Section 12(1) of the Act (Excessive Cost of Compliance) has been applied, this represents a refusal notice for the information sought.

By way of explanation, the recording systems used by Police Scotland have no facility whereby this level of detail can be automatically retrieved.

As such, all sudden death reports from 2016 to 31st December 2021 would require to be individually examined to determine whether it was relevant to your request - an exercise which I estimate would far exceed the cost limit set out in the Fees Regulations.

You may wish to contact the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service (COPFS) for assistance: foi@copfs.gsi.gov.uk
